

AgriMAXX 502

Soft Red Winter

Maturity	Early
Head Type	Bearded
Height	Medium

Key Points:

- Incredible yield for early maturity
- Good test weight
- Early, but seemed to avoid freeze damage
- Responds to fungicide at bloom
- Very good foliar disease resistance
- Resistant to Hessian Fly

AgriMAXX 502 is an EARLY variety with tons of YIELD. This new release dominated in our Eastern and Northern trials and was our highest yielding variety in our 2020 Eastern production fields. 502 tillers well to handle a variation of soil profiles and gets its yield from high head counts. Although early, it isn't as susceptible to freeze damage as other early maturities. 502 has racehorse tendencies to reach top-end yields when pushed with fertility and fungicides. Start your harvest sooner without sacrificing yield...your double crop beans will thank you!
